Laws of the United States

Passed at the Second Session of the Thirty-seventh Congress.

[PUBLIC ACT—No. 142.]

An Act ... the court of the United States for the District of Michigan.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That in addition to the terms now ... to be held in the district of Michigan, ... term of the circuit court of the United States for said district of Michigan shall be held annually at the court room in the city of Detroit on the ... Monday of February, and that all writs, ... appeal, recognizances, ... and all other proceedings, civil and criminal, shall be proceeded with at said term in like manner as now ... terms of said court.

Approved, July 14, 1862.

[PUBLIC ACT—No. 143.]

An Act to extend the territorial limits of the Territory of Nevada.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That all that part of the Territory of the United States included within the following limits, namely: beginning at the point of intersection of the forty-second degree of north latitude with the thirty-eighth degree of longitude west from Washington; thence running south on the said thirty-eighth degree of west longitude until it intersects the north boundary line of New Mexico; thence due west to the thirty-ninth degree of longitude west from Washington; thence with said thirty-ninth degree north to the intersection of said forty-second degree of north latitude; thence east with said forty-second degree of north latitude to the place of beginning, be and the same is hereby attached to and made a part of the Territory of Nevada, subject to the limitations, restrictions and provisions of the act organizing the Territory of Nevada.

[Approved, July 14, 1862.]

[PUBLIC ACT—No. 144.]

An Act for changing the place for holding the September term of the district court of the United States in the District of Maine.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the district court of the United States, now held at Wiscasset, in the district of Maine, on the first Tuesday of September of each year, be hereafter held at Bath, in said district, on the same day in each year.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That all indictments, suits, informations, actions, proceedings and recognizances of every kind, whether civil or criminal, shall have day in court and be proceeded in, heard, tried and determined at Bath, in the same manner and on the same day as they might be in Wiscasset aforesaid.

Approved, July 14, 1862.

[PUBLIC RESOLUTION—No. 39.]

A RESOLUTION for the relief of the officers, non-commissioned officers and privates of the Battalion of Marines on board the transport Governor on the third of November, 1861.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the sum of seven thousand one hundred and sixty-three dollars and fifty-one cents be and the same is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to compensate the officers, non-commissioned officers and privates who composed the marine battalion attached to the Port Royal naval expedition under Flag Officer Du Pont, for the loss of their personal effects in the foundering of the steamer Governor, in which they were embarked, on the third of November last; and that the Secretary of the Navy cause the said sum, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be paid to them according to the estimated value of their personal effects lost in the manner aforesaid.

Approved July 11, 1862.

[PUBLIC RESOLUTION—No. 40.]

A RESOLUTION to compensate the crew of the United States steamer Varuna for clothing and other property lost in the public service.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the proper accounting officers of the Treasury be and they are hereby authorized, in settling the accounts of the petty officers, seamen, and others of the crew of the United States steamer Varuna, which was sunk during the engagement near New Orleans on or about the twenty-fourth day of April, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, to credit each of them with the amount of sixty dollars to cover their losses of bedding, clothing, and other property, because of the sinking of the said steamer.

Approved July 11, 1862.

[PUBLIC RESOLUTION—No. 41.]

JOINT RESOLUTION providing for the distribution of surplus copies of the Biennial Register for eighteen hundred and sixty-one among the several bureaus in the Executive Departments.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Interior be and he is hereby authorized and directed to distribute to each of the several bureaus of the Executive Departments ... copies of the Biennial Register for eighteen hundred and sixty-one and eighteen hundred and sixty-two, from the surplus copies now deposited in the Interior Department: Provided, That the number of copies delivered to any one bureau shall not exceed two copies.

Approved July 11, 1862.

[PUBLIC RESOLUTION—No. 20.]

Joint Resolution for the appointment of Theodore D. Woolsey, of Connecticut, a Regent of the Smithsonian Institution, in place of Cornelius C. Felton, deceased.

Be it Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the vacancy in the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institution, of the class other than members of Congress, caused by the decease of Cornelius C. Felton, be filled by the appointment of Theodore D. Woolsey, of Connecticut.

Approved April 2, 1862.

[PUBLIC RESOLUTION—No. 21.]

A Resolution to authorize the President to assign the Command of Troops in the same Field or Department to Officers of the same Grade without Regard to Seniority.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That whenever military operations may require the presence of two or more officers of the same grade in the same field or department, the President may assign the command of the forces in such field or department without regard to seniority of rank.

Approved April 4, 1862.

[PUBLIC RESOLUTION—No. 25.]

Joint Resolution declaring that the United States ought to cooperate with, affording pecuniary Aid to any State which may adopt the gradual Abolishment of Slavery.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the United States ought to cooperate with any State which may adopt gradual abolishment of slavery, giving to such State pecuniary aid, to be used by such State in its discretion, to compensate for the inconveniences, public and private, produced by such change of system.

Approved April 10, 1862.

[PUBLIC RESOLUTION—No. 27.]

A Resolution transferring the Supervision of the Capitol Extension and the Erection of the new Dome to the Department of the Interior.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the supervision of the Capitol extension and the erection of the new dome be and the same is hereby transferred from the War Department to the Department of the Interior; and all ... which have been heretofore ... and all ... which may be hereafter appropriated for the improvements aforesaid shall be expended under the direction and supervision of the Secretary of the Interior: Provided, That the moneys heretofore appropriated shall not be expended upon the Capitol until authorized by Congress, except so much as is necessary to protect the building from injury by the elements, and to complete the dome.

Approved April 16, 1862.

TAX DECISIONS BY COMMISSIONER BOUTWELL.—This officer, who appears to have his hands full in making decisions under the new tax law, has rendered the following, under date of October 17th:

A corporation whose buildings are located not more than forty rods apart, and who have but one counting room, needs but one license. Owners of fishing smacks, Captains owning their own vessels, selling their fish from the vessel in different ports, must be regarded as dealers and take out licenses where the owners or managers live. Owners of smacks are to be assessed where they reside. Persons selling ice from their own ponds are to be assessed as retail dealers. A person currying or currying and tanning in the same building is not required to take out a license for each. Owners of whale ships, doing business on shares with the crews, cannot be classed as commercial brokers, but may be as dealers. Grinders of bark are not manufacturers. Cider is a manufacture. Railroad companies must pay the same per cental on troops as on other passengers. Railroad returns must be paid at the principal offices. When several roads are united, so as to have but one office, the returns may be made there, although some of the roads are located wholly in other districts. India rubber cloth, as the foundation of which is unbleached, is to be taxed only upon the increased value. Manufacturers of gas fixtures, etc., to be taxed upon the actual value of the products, although part of the material has already paid duty. The manufacturer who sells without consigning his own goods may remove to his own warerooms in another district, and account in his own district. To make one license avail for several persons as partners, the Assessor must be satisfied that a legal and bona fide partnership exists, and that the partners have a place of business, and only one, which is common to all of them, and they are responsible for one another, and share the benefits and losses of a common business, and do not transact business on private account in the branch for which the partnership is organized. Carpenters are taxable for manufactures, but not for repairs. Pensioners are not liable to the three per cent tax under section 86. Licenses on packets must be taken out at the principal terminus by the person having the care or management. Drivers of ice wagons who supply season customers are not peddlers within the meaning of section first. They do not require peddlers' licenses since they only deliver what has previously been sold. So of milk, grocery, bakers and butchers' wagons, to which the same principle applies. Fish carts selling from house to house are peddlers and must have licenses. Manufactures sent to an agent, taxed when sold by him. Commission merchants are not considered agents.

PARSON BROWNLOW ON THE EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION.—Parson Brownlow writes to the Philadelphia Press a sketch of his recent remarks at Detroit. This is what he has to say about emancipation:

I am aware that my views are desired upon the subject of the late emancipation proclamation of the President, about which there is quite a sensation. On this ground I am a pro-slavery man, and a true Southerner by birth, raising and education. I have defended the "peculiar institution" ever since I have defended any measure, and I am here what I am when I am in the South, having nothing to disguise. If the policy of the President is, as I understand it to be, to free the slaves of rebels in arms, and to compensate loyal men for theirs, I am with him, allowing, as does the proclamation, all rebellious States three months to come back in, and thus secure the slaves. The measure is useless in the revolted States, it can't be enforced, because the most simple postoffice law can't be enforced. I think the measure useless, as I do much of the legislation of the last Congress, but it will quiet the consciences of that class of radical men among you who are inflicted with an incurable disease I call "nigger on the brain." The only point in the whole thing is this: The rebels intended, when pressed to the wall, as they will be, to issue a proclamation freeing all the negroes themselves, as a last desperate means of inducing England to acknowledge their independence. Thus done they would have placed the United States Government in the false attitude of fighting to perpetuate slavery. And all there is of the matter is simply this: President Lincoln has taken the start of Jeff Davis. I am for standing by the Government, the Army and Navy, and backing them up, as the means of putting down this rebellion. The Administration will commit errors, and has done so; and when had we an Administration that did not? Let us distinguish between the President and the Government, and cling to the latter as long as life clings to us.

Three Men Hung at Lewiston!

From the Golden Age extra of Sunday Nov 9th we learn that three men named Nelson Scott, David English and William Peoples, were hung on the night previous by an armed crowd of citizens of that place under the following circumstances:—It will be recollected that we published a few days ago an account of the robbery of Mr John Berry and brother while on their way from Florence to Lewiston by three highwaymen, who boldly attacked and compelled Mr Berry to deliver over all his gold dust amounting to some $1,200. The robbers were well known and recognized by the Berry brothers, all of the party having been frequently seen by them in the mines, and one of them had been known by Mr Berry for the last seven years. Upon arriving at Lewiston, Mr Berry immediately set about capturing the robbers, and with the assistance of friends [illegible] was enabled to overhaul them again at Walla Walla, and took them back to Lewiston.

They arrived in the Walla Walla stage on Friday evening. Immediately after their arrival, notice was given to the community that a public meeting would be held at once at the Luna House.

The citizens turned out en masse, and as the house was too small, they organized the meeting by appointing George F Cole, President, and then adjourned to Arcade Hall.

The crowd was increased to thousands, and upon the President taking the chair, E B Watterbury was elected Vice President, and L H Thompson Secretary.

The President having stated the object of the meeting, several gentlemen addressed the meeting and stated that they fully appreciated the heavy responsibility which they were about to assume; but as there was no law upon that Reservation, and no justice could be obtained by waiting for the slow process of the law in Florence next April, that they had deemed it their imperative duty to take the prisoners into their possession and give them a fair trial by a jury of 24 of their countrymen. A committee of 12 were appointed to guard the prisoners until morning, assisted by 12 more who volunteered to see justice done, whereupon the meeting adjourned.

Next morning the citizens met at an early hour and appointed a committee of fifty from among their number, consisting of the best merchants and citizens generally, to make the necessary arrangements for the trial of the robbers. They took possession of the prisoners and carried them into the vacant saloon of Hays & Trevitt. The citizens then appointed Mr R H Johns the Judge to try them, and the President of the meeting, Mr Cole, drew out from a hat a jury of twenty four names out of a list of two hundred and eighty. The prisoners were to have the privilege of objecting to any juror for private or any other reason. The prisoners selected Dr E B Stone, Chas Getzler and Edward Norton as their counsels. Mr Johns organized the court and adjourned it, at the solicitations of the prisoners counsels, until Monday at two o'clock, P. M.

The prisoners were then conveyed back to the prison, and the Judge, Mr. Johns, and the Committee of fifty, appointed a guard of twenty four to watch and protect the prisoners during Saturday night. The guard proceeded to their duty in such numbers as suited themselves. During the night the guard were overpowered by a large number of people, who took possession of the bodies of the prisoners, and hung them. When the morning dawned, the duties of the watchmen had ceased—the prisoners had gone to spend their Sabbath in another world.

Nelson Scott has a wife and family residing in Siskiyou County, Cal, where he was well known.

David English has a wife and family residing in or near Corvallis, Oregon, and also another wife in Walla Walla.

Peoples was well known in California and Oregon.

The extra of the Golden Age truly adds:

Thus has closed the career of Nelson Scott, David English and William Peoples. Their journey on earth is ended; their lives were short, because they sought to do evil. It may be truly said "the way of the transgressor is hard."

We deplore the results, we sympathize with their relatives, and regret exceedingly that they could not have been spared a life of usefulness, but their lot was of their own choice: they selected the road for a living; they took to robbing men instead of prosecuting an honest calling. "Your life or your money" was their watchword; their aim was murder or robbery, and they have met their just deserts.

The People have taken the law into their own hands, and have determined to rid the community of all these robbers, murderers and highwaymen. [illegible] was [illegible] in jeopardy, and [illegible] the life of a man was a plaything and has been so considered for months. Now the people have risen in their might, and all known scoundrels will be compelled to leave this country and seek a more genial climate.

12 M Sunday Nov 9.—The citizens are now holding a Coroner's Inquest over the bodies, and have organized themselves into a [illegible]

[illegible] for continent.

From Salem

Salem, Marion Co, Nov 13, 1862.

[illegible] new buildings are in progress [illegible] different parts of the town [illegible] South Salem is [illegible] completed the work [illegible] the young men of the Salem Institute have taken lessons in military tactics and are now quite efficient in field maneuvering. [illegible] has been made in the Sunday School [illegible] for the Sanitary Fund [illegible] But that much [illegible] word Democracy which for so many months has scarcely been heard among us—that word which all enlightened loyal men had pledged themselves in the name of our country not to pronounce except as its connection with secession and disunion would justify—is now heard on every corner and in every saloon and printing office in town. Not only is it pronounced with an air of exultation by the followers of Satan Patrick Malone and Fay, such as all Union men have in contempt [illegible] uniting Secessionists, but by some of those who but a short time ago stood in the Union ranks, and hurled fire and hot shot upon all who were so lost to the claims of their suffering country, and so deaf to the warning voice of a dying Douglas, as to follow in the footsteps of partisan leaders. What is creating this democratic revival following so close upon the heels of our glorious Union successes, demoralizing an important, and as we trusted worthy element of the Union party, and encouraging the malcontents to disturb the peace of the country, I cannot certainly determine. Is it because men have discovered the principles and objects of the Union party to be unworthy of the patriot? Or is it brought about by the news of Democratic victories in the Atlantic States, and the supposition that nearly all the present immigration to Oregon are Democrats, who have seceded from their homes to avoid the claims of their country?

However that may be it matters not to loyal men who know their duty and who have the virtue and moral courage to stand firm, as consistency and honor demands. To such it matters little how the issue now pending between the Statesman and Corvallis Union in respect to "Democratic victories" be decided between them. But it is really amusing to those who are not in danger of being bewildered by the inconsistency of an editor to observe the progress of the [illegible]. It was but yesterday, the good people of the country round were startled by the thundering of cannon in town, and many thinking that news of some great federal victory was being celebrated, came hurrying in to learn what the glad tidings were. Seeing certain gentlemen of the Satan Patrick school about the cannon they thought some thing must be wrong—Washington taken by the rebels, McClellan's army annihilated—and on inquiry, found the facts to be some thing like these. The honorable gentlemen of the school aforesaid, Watkins, harness maker, Lawyer Avery, a disciple of B F Bonham, [illegible] became so inflated with the news of Democratic victories, that they entered the house where the gun belonging to this city is kept, passing the door which was locked, without a key, took it out and fired it several times in celebration of "Democratic victories in the States." And thus it was that our Federal cannon, used only to celebrate Federal victories heretofore, was prostituted by the Democracy to the celebration of a raid in the rear." And so the Valonettes had the bulge.

FEDERALIST

From Lapwai.—A friend writing to us from the upper country says that during the visit of Brig Gen Alvord—the commanding officer of the District—to the Nez Perce Reservation, he established a post for two companies in the Lapwai valley called Fort Lapwai, about three miles from the Agency. The command consists of company F, 1st Oregon Cavalry Volunteers, and company E, 1st Infantry, W T Volunteers. The following is a list of the officers of the garrison: Major J S Rinearson, 1st Oregon Cavalry Volunteers, commanding post; Capt D W Porter, Assistant Quartermaster, volunteer service; Co. E, Capt Wm M Knox, Lieutenants C P Eagan and E G Cabanas; Co F, Capt. Wm. J. Matthews, Lieutenants Wm V Rhinehard and James L Steele. All letters, &c should be addressed Fort Lapwai, near Lewiston, W T.

Polish.—The Evening Commercial in copying from "General Orders No 163" recently issued by Gen McClellan, makes him say "The remedy for political errors if any are committed, is to be found only in the action of the people at the poles." Whether it was meant the North and South "poles," telegraph poles, fish 'poles,' hoop-poles or poles used for flag staffs, does not appear, but we presume the poles referred to must be those that knock the persimmons.

The Eleventh.—Since the organization of the Federal Government eleven attempts have been made to resist its authority. The first was in 1782, the second in 1787, the third in 1794, called the whisky insurrection in Pennsylvania. In 1814 and 1820 two more attempts were made, and the seventh was with the Cherokees in Georgia in 1820. The eighth was the memorable nullification ordinance of South Carolina in 1832, and in 1842 Rhode Island tried it. The tenth was in 1856 on the part of the Mormons, and the eleventh is the present one.

Infernal Turn Out.—A war correspondent says: "Allow me now to ask whether you ever heard a shell come from a rifled gun and perforate the air in your vicinity, reader? No?—then seize the first opportunity of hearing one, and tell me if you don't think it is a winged couch and four coming to carry you bodily to the devil?"

Subscriptions to Sanitary Fund.—Before acknowledged, $14,364 82.

From Oregon City additional $73; T W Davenport, Umatilla $5; a lady, Eugene City, $10; J L Parrish, Salem, $25; J K Kelly, Oregon City $5—Total—$14,482 82.

Later intelligence from Nashville says the rebel force at Murfreesboro was greatly exaggerated.

St Louis, Nov 8th.—At one o'clock on the morning of Nov [illegible] the steamer [illegible] Dickey exploded her boiler ten miles above St Genevieve, killing several passengers and wounding others.

St Paul, Minn, Nov 8th.—Over three hundred Indians have been convicted by Military Commission at the Lower Sioux Agency of being concerned in the late massacres and condemned to be hung.

Washington, Nov 8th.—In all the hospitals of the United States there are nearly [illegible]000 sick and wounded soldiers, nearly 12,000 of which are in the West, over [illegible] Washington and the rest on the Atlantic and Gulf seaboards.

Philadelphia, Nov 8th.—The Inquirer has letter from Fortress Monroe, dated 6th, which states that the gunboat Delaware from Newbern, N C, brings intelligence that Gen Foster's expedition had surrounded [illegible] rebels at Plymouth, N C, half of them being cavalry, who unconditionally surrendered.

Washington, Nov 9th.—Official list of killed and wounded at Corinth, 315 killed, 1812 wounded and 232 missing.

Gen Burnside has been appointed to supersede McClellan. Hooker takes Burnside's position. McClellan's removal caused great excitement here last night.

Fitz John Porter is ordered to Washington to answer the charges preferred by Pope.

Salem, Va, Nov 8th.—The order relieving McClellan of command, was read at 11 o'clock last night, and was entirely unexpected. The command was immediately turned over to Burnside. McClellan and staff leave to-morrow for Trenton, N. J., where they have been ordered to report. The last official act of McClellan was issuing an address to the soldiers, informing them in a few words of the change.

New York, Nov 9th.—A special to Sunday Mercury says, rebel preparations for retreat had been going on for more than two months. All their plans are known to be matured for going into winter quarters at Richmond. We hold Warrenton Junction. The President notifies all who call on him that he will not modify or withdrawn his emancipation proclamation.

Detroit, Nov 18th.—The Legislature will stand, Senate 17 Republicans to 15 Democrats, House, 58 Republicans to 12 Democrats.

New York, Nov 8th.—The Scotia arrived from Liverpool, Oct 26th. Lord Lyons is a passenger.

Louisville, Nov 7th.—A body of rebels took possession of Lexington, Ky., and captured $1,000,000 worth of stores, and immense quantities of ammunition and clothing, etc.

San Francisco, Nov 9th.—Mr Little beat Mr Phelan 258 points at billiards last night.

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

AGROUND.—The steamship Sierra Nevada got aground at Swan Island bar night before last at about half-past 10 o'clock, and remained until near 12 o'clock last night. The water in the Willamette is now at a very low stage, and unless the steamers sail at or about full tide, difficulty may be expected in getting over this bar. We have no doubt that the bar is constantly increasing and will have to be dredged before long; in fact, it should now, and if our citizens and commercial dealers are wise they will commence the work immediately. There is no getting over or denying the fact that this bar is a great drawback to the growth and prosperity of Portland, and the longer it remains the more it will increase, and greater will be the damaging effects. Delay in this matter is dangerous. A word to the wise is sufficient.

CIRCUIT COURT.—5th day.—Mr. Joseph N. Dolph was admitted to the bar. The day was taken up in hearing motions, and we are informed that several of the legal gentlemen in attendance gave proof of considerable ability during the discussions.

RELIEF.—We are requested to say to any person who may know of cases of emigrants needing assistance in the purchase of provisions, clothing or articles required for comfort or protection, that by informing Rev. Father Royal, corner of Second and Main streets, such cases will be immediately attended to by him.

THANKS.—To Mr. Ben. Needham, of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, for favors. Also to E. Kelly, of Walla Walla, for "Overland Despatches via Walla Walla."

The Julia brought down some 70 passengers and about 80 pounds dust, per Wells, Fargo & Co., last night.

DIVINE SERVICE.—Rev. Mr. Hines will preach to-morrow, Sabbath, at 10½ o'clock, in the Congregational Church.

EXCELLENT.—Our esteemed friend "Uncle Johny Stephenson" placed a bottle of currant wine upon our table yesterday, which after being duly tested by all hands round was pronounced good, and very good. Much obliged to you Uncle Johny—do so again.

City Ordinance.

ORDINANCE admitting "Protection Fire Co. No. 4" to the Portland Fire Department.

The People of the city of Portland do ordain as follows:

SEC. 1. That the Fire Company organized as "Protection Fire Co. No. 4," being duly recommended by the Board of Delegates for admission to the Fire Department, and their Constitution being duly submitted, signed by upwards of thirty members over 21 years of age, and residents of this city, that said "Protection Fire Co. No. 4," be and is hereby admitted and constituted one of the Fire Companies of the Fire Department, under the name of "Protection Fire Co. No. 4," subject to all the laws and regulations governing the Fire Department.

SEC. 2. That said "Protection Fire Co. No. 4" be and is hereby located in the Third Ward, between Salmon and Madison streets.

SEC. 3. That this ordinance take effect from and after its approval by the Mayor.

Passed the Common Council, November 12th, 1862.

O. RISLEY, President.

H. BOYD, Clerk.

Approved, Nov. 13th, 1862.

BORN.—In this city, Nov. 14th, 1862, to Mrs. S. S. Bixisdell, a son.

The Markets.

We have but slight changes in our market report for this week, except in the articles of teas and salt. Trade during the past week has been lively, much better than could have ordinarily been expected, when the inclemency of the weather is taken into consideration. Butter, eggs and oats are scarce in market, although the latter has been coming in more freely during the past few days than the week previous. Flour has an upward tendency and the demand for flour and bacon is still large for the upper Columbia markets. Apples have materially declined since the arrival of the Sierra Nevada, which brought news that the cargo shipped by the Alma was sold at about 60 cents per box. The Sierra Nevada with a cargo of 500 tons and the Bark Sam'l Merritt with 400 tons assorted merchandise have arrived during the week.

FIELD'S STEAMED OYSTERS!

MR. A. FIELD, whose Oysters have long enjoyed the highest reputation in this market, has recently invented an entirely new process of cooking which possesses every advantage over the one hitherto employed. It so preserves the natural flavor, freshness and shape of the Oyster that they may be either Stewed, Fried, Scolloped or Fancy Roasted—in fact cooked in any manner adapted to those just taken from the shell. They will not be broken into pieces by land travel, however lengthy, and will retain their sweetness, after the can is cut, longer than secured by any other method.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

Should be WELL MADE, simple in its construction, [illegible] to keep in order; should make a tight [illegible] alike on both sides of the material, and sew any way and all material that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton, thread, or silk directly from the spool, and sew from coarse to fine, [illegible] thick to thin, with rapidity and without [illegible]. It should also be able to make [illegible] or less, on both the under and upper [illegible] and should have a [illegible] to break.

The needle should have a perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather; and should be always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread or silk above or below, to correspond with any [illegible] to be sewed.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and [illegible] the stitch, and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch; and to run easily, and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel-feed, no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order; neither should it require a screw driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to soil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the under side, a ravel.

DR. BAKER'S
PAIN PANACEA.

It is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to [illegible] the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases: If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, and externally over the parts affected, and you will at once rest in the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Canker, or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhea, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be relieved. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe toothache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe gums at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe parts affected morning and night; at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea; it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

BICHEL & CARDWELL'S
PICT[illegible] THE BEST IN OREGON

D[illegible] CHARLES BARRETT.

In Memoriam.

The following beautiful poem appeared anonymously in [illegible] two or three years ago:

The lilies [illegible] the [illegible] blue slowly,
Stooping with crowns of hope the fallen leaves;
He who was once [illegible] low lies there lowly,
While autumn gathers up her golden sheaves.
The darling sister, [illegible] has perished.
The [illegible] withered all.
And like one fond regret which love hath cherished,
Alone the ivy shivers on the wall.

A voice, o'erburdened with a low wild moaning,
Sighs out its plaints on the midnight air,
Like a lost spirit for its sins atoning,
Whose only whisper is the word "despair."
The waves of sound throb softly 'gainst the shutter,
And fast recede into the darksome night,
Trembling with sadness, like the plaintive flutter
Of frightened doves in their uncertain flight.

The Frost-King is abroad, with magic finger
Twining in Earth's tresses icy curls;
While on her brow his freezing kisses linger
Till morn shall make them to a crown of pearls;
The naked trees fling out their quivering branches,
Like spectral fingers clasping shadowy forms;
While each hail-smitten crest in fury launches
A proud defiance to the hissing storms.

I hear the waves of ocean far rebounding—
The white-keyed organ of the universe,
That in their eager joy sound ever verse,
Their Maker's praise in major anthem pealing
Far, far through rocky halls its floods of song,
Fills the vast caverns, [illegible] softly stealing
And on the distant [illegible] bear the wind along.
Like sighs of [illegible]

O, wind and waves! with all tumultuous thronging,
[illegible] memories come on sorrow-burdened wing,—
Of [illegible] of one, who, with an earnest longing,
Drank deep the inspiration which ye bring.
Your trembling lips pronounced a benediction,
Morning and evening, on her youthful pride,—
And when bowed down beneath the great affliction,
Her wounded spirit drooped its wings and died.

From the Oregon Farmer.

The Trade in Wool and Woolens.

From an article in the New York Economist, in which the subject of Wool and Woolen Manufactures is treated at considerable length, we extract the following paragraphs:

"The call for 300,000 additional volunteers has an important bearing on the wool trade of the country. When the new quota has been raised, there will be 850,000 troops requiring a regular supply of army clothing. Each one of these carries, in the shape of his complete outfit, woolen manufactures representing about twenty-five pounds of raw or unmanufactured wool.—In times of war, the excessive wear and tear, the irregularities and losses from various causes, will make the consumption average nearly three outfits a year per man. At a safe average, it may be reckoned that the yearly consumption of each soldier will amount to 60 pounds of unmanufactured wool. This amount, multiplied by 850,000, would give, as the total consumption of wool by the army for the next twelve months, the enormous amount of 51,000,000 pounds. The aggregate seems immense, but a careful inspection of the estimate will show that it is not exaggerated. How this enormous consumption must bear on the trade in wool and woolens, deserves the prompt attention of those interested. The whole product of wool in the United States in 1850, according to the returns of the census, was only about 51,000,000 pounds. That statement is probably far below the truth, as are nearly all the figures representing the produce of the country; and it therefore gives imperfect data from which to estimate the present wool crop. We have as yet seen no statement made from the census of 1860 as to the present wool product of the country, and can, therefore, merely make a loose statement as to the amount. We should, however, represent the most general estimate of the wool trade in supposing the present crop, in the now loyal States, to reach about 120,000,000 pounds. According to this estimate, the army demand will take up about 42½ per cent of our whole crop of wool. It is unnecessary to indicate the effect of this extraordinary demand on the value of the staple. The demand will be mostly for the lower grades of wool, which, as last year, may be expected to realize fabulous prices, and out of all proportion to the value of the finer grades. It may perhaps be questioned, however, whether we shall this year witness such a depreciation in the value of fine grades as was experienced last year. The largeness of the demand may be reasonably expected to give an enhanced value to all qualities; though as the finer grades have no preference for army purposes over the coarser, they may not be expected to range so much higher than common wools as is the case in ordinary times.

"It is not improbable, under these circumstances, that we may witness an unusual importation of foreign wools. Although both the tariff and exchange are against its importation, yet prices may range so high as to render these two considerations secondary.

"The effect of this extraordinary consumption of army woolens must be to inflate and derange the ordinary business in woolen fabrics. Probably the machinery employed last year in manufacturing military goods might be sufficient, if running extra time, to meet the demand. But that proportion of our woolen machinery leaves but little for meeting the demand for ordinary goods. The result will probably be that fabrics for civilians' wear will be in light supply and realize high prices.

"The wool crop will realize $60,000,000 distributed among the agriculturists, and then return to the commercial cities for the purchase of manufactures. This will be made into goods worth $120,000,000, bringing in the main high prices and making handsome profits."

Since the foregoing article was originally put in type, the Government has ordered 300,000 (by draft) men in addition to the number upon which the calculations of the Economist were founded; and if the position of that journal is sound, its prognostications will be strengthened in proportion to the increased number of men placed in the field.

REMARKS.—The above is valuable for its suggestions, rather than the correctness of its data. In 1840, the number of sheep in the United States was (according to census returns) a fraction under 20,000,000. In 1850, the number was a trifle under 22,000,000, and their yield of wool was put down at 50,000,000 pounds. The gain in numbers, during the ten years, amounted to only about 2,000,000. During that period, all the New England and some of the Middle States fell off, owing in part doubtless, to the rise of lands and increase of population, while the Western States increased their number of sheep but not sufficiently to counter-balance the falling off in the East.

During the last decade, from 1850 to 1860, the same causes have operated to produce like results. It is to be presumed, on the most reasonable data, that the gain in this period will not exceed 3,000,000; making the whole number of sheep now in the United States, 25,000,000. Tbly flocks would yield of washed wool pounds, an average, including lambs, ,000 pounds, per head; in the total,62 of 40 cents per which at an average sum of $25,000,000. pound, amountunds, instead of 60, to each Allowing 40 marine, and the 1,000,000 of soldier our army and navy would require 9,000,000 pounds of wool.

One fact is patent—the increased army demand for uniforms and blankets will be large. The United States never has produced over one-third of her annual consumption of wool! In addition to this new and unprecedented demand, and her limited supply or production, also the fact of the high rates of cotton (50 cents per lb.) giving increased demand for woolen goods of every description, it seems reasonable to infer that wool growing can but yield for a series of years returns highly remunerative and satisfactory.

The kingdom of cotton is in peril. For over a quarter of a century the rebellious States have produced seven-eighths of the cotton of the world. The annual crop is 1,500,000,000 pounds. Last year's crop—part burned and part stored away—is lost to commerce, to industry, and to consumption. If the slave-holders execute their threats, the world must go cottonless. This year they produce only enough for themselves, from obstinacy. Next year they will produce none from helplessness. The spirit of liberty and advancing civilization through the instrumentality of treason, (strange as it may seem) has decreed the emancipation of the entire servile class of cotton raisers, and the curse of human bondage shall cease, though the world clamors for cotton and is compelled to betake itself to wool and flax in the emergency.

How long before the cotton fields of America will yield their wonted crops, it is impossible to tell. Great changes are about to take place and a new order of things to be established. The compulsory system of labor is to be overturned, and a system stimulated by just compensation and reward erected on its ruins. Providence has so decreed it, and in the chaos and confusion incident to this mighty change, years may pass ere our cotton fields will bloom in their former measure. Brazil, and the East Indies, and Egypt, and Mexico, will not be able in long years to produce one-half as much as came from the United States. California, the Sandwich Islands, and Australia may lend a hand, but with the increasing population of the world there will long be felt a sensible want of the great commercial staple, now dethroned and throttled, in the house of its friends. It is time therefore to think of wool.

S. B. ROCKWELL.

P. S.—With 50 head of full blood merinos, and their increase for two years, Oregon may congratulate herself over her basis and facilities, for improving her wools and improving the occasion to reap material and decided advantages from her flocks, which are healthier and more prolific than in any other State in the Union. S.B.R.

AN APPEAL TO SLAVES AS A MILITARY MEASURE.—Search the writers on the laws of nations, and you will find an appeal to slaves justified. Search history, whether in ancient or modern times, and you will find it justified by example. In our Revolution the appeal was made by three different British commanders—Lord Dunmore, Sir Henry Clinton and Lord Cornwallis. I do not stop for details. That this appeal was not unsuccessful is evident from the language of Washington with regard to Dunmore, of whom he said: "His strength will increase as a snow-ball by rolling, and faster, if some expedient cannot be hit upon to convince the slaves and servants of the impotency of his designs." Washington thought that if Dunmore was not crushed before spring he would be the most formidable enemy the colonies had. That such an appeal would be proper, is admitted by Jefferson while describing his own individual losses from Cornwallis: "He destroyed all my growing crops and tobacco; he burned all my barns, containing the same articles of last year; having first taken what corn he wanted, he used, as was to be expected, all my stock of cattle, sheep, and hogs, for the sustenance of his army, and carried off all the horses capable of service. He carried off, also, about thirty slaves. Had this been done to give them freedom, he would have done right. * * * From an estimate made at the time, from the best information I could collect, the State of Virginia lost, I suppose, under Lord Cornwallis' hands, that year, about thirty thousand slaves." [Letter to Dr. Gordon.] It would be difficult to imagine testimony stronger. Here was a sufferer, justly indignant for himself and his State; but he does not doubt that an enemy would do right in carrying off slaves to give them freedom.—Charles Sumner.

SINGULAR CIRCUMSTANCE.—The Worchester Transcript says that Mr. Joseph Conant, of Gardner, lost a cow recently by death, and upon examination a ten-penny nail three inches and a quarter in length, was found in her heart. It entered at one side and worked its way through, so that it came out on the opposite side, making a hole through the heart larger than a man's finger.

No language was ever understood by so many men as the Chinese; no living language can claim such antiquity; none is so purely its own and so unlike every other. It is the oldest language now spoken; and excepting the Hebrew, it is, perhaps, the most ancient written language ever used by man.

Hearing a physician remark that a small blow would break the nose, a rustic standing by exclaimed—"Well, I dunno 'bout that. I've blowed my nose pretty hard a good many times, and never broke it."

PRESIDENT LINCOLN has presented a pair of elegantly mounted Colt's revolvers to the King of Denmark, who is a good friend of the Union.

The festival for the benefit of families of California Volunteers, in San Francisco, netted about $700.
